Of Interest to Women. —

TWO BUTTERFLIES.

BY LOWELL O. REESE.

a saint would have been driven franby the girl. I threw up my hands, pratively, grouned literally and with expletive not at all in harmony with a best ethics of polite society, detented to my tortured soul that she had Ito my tortured soul that she had phinx besteb a mile. The present of the property of the property of the property of the property of the point of frameworks. I swore by all the gods, the flide mud god of the Digger to to the war god of Thor, never we anything more to say to her.

let a girl know that you love her id you are lost.

and you don't will all you all you will pro-lig midness. "And why, please?" "Irst." I broke out, "because you're raking mildness. "First," I broke g to marry me; and that in Itself ideed! And will you kindly tell es just when I promised to marry you, and in love. You-well, you know it's as good as a . I began, but she interrupted ts-good-as settled?" she dreamily. "Watch me onw!"

said. She litted her hand toward beilliant butterfly which had alighted por a rose at the edge of the such bresthiessly. 'I reach my handar fingers nearly touch him. Have I at him, though? It seems all I have add it to close my fingers so ah!...' is to close my fingers - 36-ah!gaudy creature cluded her just as fingers brushed his striped wings. Bin't get him," she sighed. "And didn't get him

net-and then I saw—
It made my neart stop. Ellakeslee, pipably, was the rawest dub in a cause. And a cannoe with an unskillful band on the paddle is about as danger-Blakeslee, get it ashore. scking about in it.

sarted involuntarily toward the pryright, 1964, by Lowell O. Reese.) | Stamped back. Not to save a thou sand lives—my own included—would I be seen following them. They and all the rest of the world would attribute it to jealousy; and—

And deep down in my poor, aching, bedeviled heart I knew it would be the

I dug up my pipe and polluted sweet summer air for rods around. I determined to be a pessimist and a cynic and spend the rest of my life sneering at everything I used to like.
I jeered at the idea of human felicity and wished I had never been born. I had what is technically known as the more minutes later I was back on the great manual and then suddenly a great light broke over me, and I saw where I had been playing the foot instead of the wise general. I had been giving her all the advantage; and as I reviewed my case I grew utterly and thoroughly ashamed of myself. The spectacle of a great grew utter of myself. six-foot grown-up man toddling around beseeching a small girl to love him! How could she, when I was so devoid of stamina as that?

And then I determined that, come what might I would do so no more. It might break my heart, but I was Jack Weston I hadn't even satisfaction. But I was both anand in love.

determined. Then, too, my heart was all crushed to frazzles anyway; so a little more breaking would be a mere incident not worth considering.

A matter of thunder in the west and I glanced up in apprehension. A black cloud was rolling up through the pines and already the wind was beginning to sway the tree tops. I rose and looked up the river. No cance was in sight. Filled with slarm I climbed into my ance-a tiny thing-and paddled furithe ously up the stream ahead of the ris-ing wind.

Half a mile up the river and no mgn of the canocists. The wind swept down and almost listantly the water was beaten into whitecaps, and the little shell bobbed like a cork, but I held It straight ahead and watched it with the instinct of one trained to the paddle.

elle, and ran down the steps. Preselle I saw her, with Blakeslee, goat toward the boat landing. A little lite they were moving briskly up the lite they were moving briskly up the lite and my neight stor.

I made my neight stor.

by was the rawest dub in a ca-land a canoe with an unskillful on the paddic is about as danger-ing powder mill with a livecoal and the lateness of the hour. Miss as a powder mili with a livecoal and the lateness of the hour. Miss king about in it.

Milwood turned and gave a glad cry.

"Oh, Jack" she said, piteously, "I'm so glad. We've been unable to get home! Our cance was beaten back by 'How did you escape?' I asked very stiffly.

"We-we waded! And I'm chilling to death, Jack." Her lips were blue with cold, and she shivered miserably. Poor Blakeslee was in no better plight. I hastened to right the other cance, with Blakeslee's help. Then I put the

Miss Milwood, strangely quiet, huddled in the bottom of the cance and said no word sprint for the hotel and get a rearing fire ready. I then recrossed the river. fire ready. I then recrossed the river, lifted the terrifled girl into the large caoc, tied the other behind and set out n the teeth of the storm. Doggedly and stendily, keeping as much as pos sible in the lea of the shore, we crept down the angry sheet of water. Miss Milwood, strangely quiet, huddled in the bottom of the cance and said not a word. But I could hear her teeth chat-tering and I felt love and pity strug-gling hard with my new resolution to be grimly firm and uncompromising. My muscles were aching and heart throbbing as though it would burst when at last we drew into the shelter of the boat house. I fastened the canoes and lifted the wet figure 'Oh, Jack!" she quavered, "I should have died if you hadn't-"I beg you won't mention it. Miss Milwoon," I said with exaggerated politeness. It was a mean thing to say-I realized it at the time; but it was necessary if I was to crush the lerve longing to take her in my arms.

I hurried her up to the hotel. From time to time she pushed back her wet hair and gazed at me with a pathetic wistfulness which I affected not to see. The storm had blown swiftly away and the big white moon was sailing through the sky dotted with scudding cloud drift.

I resigned her to the care of the solicitous Mrs. Kerers, who was all sympathy and bustling motherliness. Blakeslee was there, in an agony of I went away, changed my ever be a part." ontrition. half-lighted library, gloomly watching the pine logs in the wide fireplace.

After about an hour a timid hand parted the curtains and I knew with-out turning watching and I knew with-out turning watching the curtains and I knew with-out turning watching the same of the woman question which is not often dwelt upon was brought out at the recent Packer Alumnae requirements of the woman question which is not often dwelt upon was brought out at the recent Packer Alumnae requirements. parted the curtains and I knew with-out turning my head who it was. She ame in slowly.

"Fifty years ago," said Mrs. Terhune.

"Jack," she said, tremulously.

I sprang to my feet and offered her chair. She refused to notice it. She held out her hands. I in turn refused Jack," she whispered, "are you an-

Not at all, Miss Milwood?' I rejoined, still excessively polite and proper. 'I am merely going to reform."

a moment she stood milent with her head bent down. I stood gazing over her head with eyes which dated not look for a moment at here, else all were lost. Then I heard her sob.
"It was a had day for butterdies!" 1 muttered huskily.

She glanced up and I saw her eyes filled with tea's. "This butterfly is tired, Jack-dear Jack!" she whispered. "It doesn't want to fly!"

Never-for always "Never-for alway It was good-all that wretchedness and anxiety of long months, when she by tight against my breast and I kissed preverse red lips-meek now, and cetly submissive-for the butterfly was caught!

FOR FEMININE READERS.

TY ING EDWARD, like others, occasionally takes great pleasure in telling a toke on himself. Here is one which the New York Times cepents: Queen Victoria while in Scotland during the boyhood of Edward was fond of taking her easel to the coast or to the river and spending long hours over her water colors. The little Prince of Wales usually accompanied her. On one of these occasions he found time rather heavy and cast around for some thing with which to amuse himself thing with which to amuse himself. Near by he espied a bare-footed, kilted Highland boy of his own age building sand castle. Edward went up to him and calmly kicked the castle over.

"Dinna do that sgain," said the boy.
He rebuilt his castle of sand, and once again is collapsed before young Edward's royal foot.

"If ye dae that again-" There was silence as he built the castle for the third time.

Out shot the royal foot once more.
The next moment his Royal Highness, the future King of England, was rolling in the sand with the infuriated Scotch boy, whose fists were flying like windmill Edward howled for help, but Queen Victoria, who was an interested wit-pers, sat still and allowed the kilted lad administer punishment to his heart's content. When the Prince eventually reached his mother's side, nose bleed-ing and bedraggled, the Queen only remarked: "You deserved that."

Many Sait Lake friends will be inter-

Alany Sait Lake friends will be inter-ested in reading the announcement of the marriage of Miss Maude Noble, of Alpine, Ariz, to Prof. H. I. Nelson of Provo, which took place yesterday in the Sait Lake Temple. Prof. and Mrs. Nelson will make their home in Provo.

Miss May Crane leaves shortly for the East, to spend the summer visiting friends in Milwaukee and the region of Dr. E. D. Woodruff and daughter, Les-ley, will leave in a few days for St. Louis and other Eastern cities, to be away six Miss Bessie Holm will go to St. Louis early in June for a visit of several weeks at the fair.

. . .

Mrs. Edward Gaby and daughter. Miss Lucy, are among the Salt Lakers who will visit the fair early in June.

Mrs. William A. Wetzell will leave for Portland, Or., the latter part of June, to spend a portlan of the summer visit-ing friends,

If the weather does not permit of the J. G. W. club's gathering at Liberty park this afternoon, as planned, members will need at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Post, 438 Fifth East.

Mrs. H. P. Mason leaves for Long Beach and San Diego the 19th of June,

The ladies of the First Methodist church will hold a rummage sale in the church parlors on Saturday, May 28.

Mrs. Anna McGuire of Bingham left vesterday to spend the summer at her old home in Garradice, Ireland. She will also visit for a month in Dublin with her sister, Miss Margaret Quinn.

The Denver Republican of May 24 says friends in States, the Great inkes, and other cases or eight weeks.

to be away all summer.

CUTGLASS bowl filled with sweet peas, large pink taffeta bows at A either end of the table, with sweet peas and maidenhair fern scattered over the cloth-these were the pretty decorations at the luncheon given yesterday by Mrs. Roscoe H. Channing in honor of ten, and, in adition to the guest of honor, there were present Mrs. Thomas B. Davis, Mrs. Union Worthington, Mrs. Lewis Ceell Robinson, Mrs. Harris K. Mastera, Miss Nason, Miss Lowe, Miss Salisbury and Miss Sanno.

Capt and Mrs. John E. Woodward arrived yesterday from San Francisco, and are guests at the home of Mrs. Mary Judge.

Mrs. J. R. Walker entertains today at an informal function

Miss Cosgriff and Miss Elizabeth Coa-griff entertain at dinner at the Kenyon this evening in honor of Miss Catherine Sanno of California.

W. H. Bancroft has received a cable dispatch announcing the safe arrival of Mrs. Bancroft and Miss Bancroft at Liverpool

Miss Maud Thorn will return Sunday from a pleasant visit in California. At present Miss Thorn is the guest of Miss Donnellan at Sacramento.

Mrs. John Reed has issued invitations for a Kensington next Thursday after-tion at the home of Mrs. James F. Mar-shall, in honor of Miss Nell Pinkerton, hall, in honor of the one of the June bridge.

Mr and Mrs Paul Nolan returned yes-terday from their wedding trip through California, and will shortly be at home to their friends in this city.

Mr and Mrs. Paul Nolan returned yesterday from their wedding trip through California, and will shortly be at home to their friends in this city.

Mrs. F. A. Grant of Seatile, whose home was formerly in this city, will arrive testay for a ten-days visit with her Mr. and Mrs. Fisher S. Harris entertained the choir of St. Paul's in royal style at their forme last evening.

Son. During her stay here Mrs. Grant will be the quest of Mrs. Savage, at 1029 Third street.

Rev. B. W. Davis and wife of Iowa are visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Cain. Mrs. Davis is Mrs. Chin's stster.

Mrs. Fred Stauffer left Tuesday for Entertain the members of their club at dimernext Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Savage at 1029 Third street.

Miss Susan Stokes leaves Monday for San Diego, to spend the summer at her cid home.

Dr. and Mrs. E. V. Silver will return

Louis the bronze tablet here represented, which symbolizes a trinity of sen-timents. It is in memory of an event, the influence of which is inestimable and imperishable. It is in enduring re-membrance of the hospitality so freely extended to this great body of women by the city of St. Louis, and it is a message from the world of art for whose expression temples of are arise.

And may the current of humanity sweeping past bear on its breast in-creasing treasures of beauty, whose message shall be, not of the material, but the spiritual treasures touched by a sacred fire that shall inspire and exalt a great people, and if this the wo-men of the General Federation of Wo-men's Clubs, in a spirit of patriotism, friendship and abiding fidelity to a many a fine young fellow went down to his grave a bachelor because his sis-ters and his cousins and his aunts tagged onto him like barnacles to a ship, and dragged his life out. If those women had lived today they would have earned their own living and the man could have married and made some woman and himself happy. An-other thing for which the men ought to be thankful these days," Mrs. Terhuns added, "is that when a woman con-casonable presumption that she does because she loves him, not because he is obliged to have some one to sup-

Miss Mary Anthony has paid her taxes again under protest. She writes to the City Tweasurer of Rochester, N.

Y: "Once more all women, politically classed with minors, criminals, luna-tribute to the support of a Government which denies them any voice in the con-trol of affairs, and once more I pay my taxes under protest. Please so record it." Miss Mary Anthony and her dis-tinguished sister, Susan B. Anthony,

It is said that Princers Christian,

Federation Convention Adjourns.

ST. LOUIS, May 25.-With the selection of the principal officers practically settled before the balloting began yesterday, without any questions of un-the General Federation of Women's pay taxes without a protest of tick and idots, are compelled to con sents to marry one of them there port her."

St. Louis, in commemoration of the shire, Mrs. E. L. Johnson of Rhode Louisiana purchase, Mrs. Charles H. Island. Louisiana purchase, Mrs. Charles H. Denison, president of the General Fed-It was decided to reapportion the aneration of Women's Clubs, said:

"In behalf of the G. F. W. C., I have the honor to present to the city of St. nual dues as follows: The annual dues of clubs of fewer than twenty-five members shall be $2.50; of clubs of twenty-five or more members the dues twenty-five or more members the dues shall be 10 cents per capita.

In a stirring seene, Mrs. Demies T. S. Denison, rettring president, was voted an honorary president of the federation.

At the closing session Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker of Colorado, the newly elected president, spoke briefly thanking the delegates and expressing her appreciation of the honor accorded her. The place of meeting and the date for the eighth biennial convention will be the eighth biennial convention will determined by the new board of direc-

MRS. SEWELL TALKS OF MORMONS

Answers Many Questions on Conditions in Utah in an Article in an Eastern Journal.

RS. MAY WRIGHT SEWALL, president of the International Council of Women which meets in Berlin next week, has recentbeen in receipt of scores of letters from members of the council in all parts of the world bearing upon the Mormon question. In reply to these, and to set at rest the minds of many others regarding her position, Mrs. Sewall has written a long article, printed in the last issue of the Boston Woman's Journal. The points upon which writers have challenged Mrs. Sewall are summed up by her as follower

1. How can I reconcile myself to association with Mormons?

2. What effect do I think the presence of Mormon associations in the National Council of Women must have upon the character of the council as a whole?

3. Do I realize my responsibility for the degeneracy of current opinion and practice in respect to marriage? 4 Are the women of Indiana more Princess Charles of Denmark and the Princess of Wales could earn their liv-ing as stenographers were it necessary ndifferent to domestic purity than women of the rest of the country?

5. Do the women of the National Council realize that Christian women will be obliged to withdraw from it, if Mornions remain within it?

Mrs. Sewall's reply in part is given

Not Afraid of Mormons.

"To the first query of my corre-spondents, I would reply that I have usual interest having been presented to the convention, the seventh blennial ever for a moment feared that the membership of Mormon women, even of large associations of Mormon women, in the National Council of the United Clubs, which convened on May 17, end-Clubs, which convened on May It, end-ed today, after one of the most harmo-nious conventions in its history. Mrs. Dimies T. S. Denison, who re-tires with the closhing of this conven-tion, called the last session to order. States, would have any deteriorating effect upon the character of the Council. Generally speaking, it is true that disease and not health is contagious. One person suffering from a pestilential fever may communicate it following the report of the result of the election the reports of presidents of State federations were presented. fever may communicate it to a thou-sand, and just as physical contagion should be avoided by all well people ex-The result of the election of officers was as follows: President, Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker of should be avoided by all wen people ex-cept physicians and nurses, so for children and for undeveloped youth all exposure to moral contagion should be avoided. I have, however, always be-lieved that the best way of correcting a false doctrine is by wringing it into immediate contact with the true doc-trine to which it is opposed, and that the most direct method of exhibiting Colorado; first vice-president, Mrs. Philip N. Moore of St. Louis: second vice-president, Mrs. May Alden Ward of Boston; recording secretary, Mrs. Mary Belle King Sherman of Illinois; corresponding secretary, Miss Louisa B. Poppenheim of Charleston, S. C.; treasurer, Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker of Texas; auditor, Dr. Sarah H. Kenthe most direct method of exhibiting the weakness of sinfulness inherent in any theory or practice is to bring it face to face with its antithesis. "I can assure all my correspondents iall of Washington.

Directors—Mrs. Josiah E. Cowles of California, Mrs. W. T. Orr of Ohlo, Mrs. Charles Yardley of New Jersey, Mrs. Lydia P. Williams of Minnesota, that the women of Indiana are not only not more indifferent to domestic purity than the women of the rest of the country, but that, if there is any in-difference in the respect for domestic "You deserved that."

Mrs. Lydia P. Williams of Minnesota, Mrs. Charles A. Perkins of Tennessia, Country, but that, if there is any indifference in the respect for domestic difference in the respect for domestic leading druggists.

In presenting the tablet in the city of see, Mrs. Mary T. Wood of New Hamp.

ent States. I believe the women of Indiana would be found to have not only an actual higher standard, but a rela tive very high standard in this partictive very high standard in this particular. So far as my own views may be supposed to have any weight in Indiana, not only are they in behalf of "domestic purity," but I must confess to having very rigid opinions on this subject. I not only believe in the morogamic as the only form of marriage compatible with an ideal home server. compatible with an ideal home, serv-ing the highest spiritual development, but I further believe that monogamic marriage, having once into, should never be dissolved until dissolved by death.

GENT'S

FURNISHING

THE GREATEST SHIRT SPE-CIALS OF THE SEASON

ALL DAY FRIDAY

100 DOZEN

With or without collars, made up in assorted patterns of best percale, sizes 14 to 17, regular 75c and $1.00 grades

PRICE 49¢

Friday only, for less than

FRONT SHIRTS

GENT'S SOFT

cost of material,

No Use for Polygamy.

Standing as one of the official board of the National council since its organ ization, and feeling all the cordiality which I have expressed toward the two associations of Mormon women the headquarters of which are in Salt Lake City, I have felt it very necessary that there should be no misunderstanding by them of my opinions upon this important question. From my first knowldge of the existence of polygamy in Mormonism, I felt that the United States Government was committing a States Government was committing a great crime by harboring such an an-achronism, however distant and unde-veloped the State in which it was per-mitted to grow up. I rejoiced over the enactment of the Edmunds bill, believ-ing that by it the United States Gov-ernment was committed to the eradica-tion of polygamy, not because polygamy was an accompaniment of this or that, or the other religious doctrine, but be-cause it was a violation of what is fun-damental in the law of the entire counry, since the marriage laws of the dif ferent States recognize the monogamic as the only legal marriage. I have al-ways, however, found it necessary to maintenance of intellectual honests and spiritual sincerity to distinguish as I said in the beginning of this letter, between polygamy and Mormon-ism. Mormonism is to my mind only one of the many sects into which mod-ern Christians are divided; polygamy, merely an incident to it, the product of economic conditions now vanishing, whose extinction will be hastened by he mingling of Mormons and Gentiles.

Fought Against Roberts.

At the time of the Roberts case, I as myself the presiding officer of the National council. The vote upon the resolution which was brought before the council was an "say" and 'nay' vote. The rounds will show that I supported the resolution to petition Con-gress to exclude Roberts from the Sen-ate, because I believed it to be not only groven but confessed that he was a violator of almost the most important aw that could be passed concerning the absolutely most important relation of fe, and I believed that such a violator of the law was unfit to occupy a seat in the most dignified division of our law-making body. To my correspondents who ask whether I do not realize that "Christian women will be obliged to withdraw from the council if Mormons are permitted to remain in it." I can only say that I make no such distinction be-tween Christians and Mormons. On the ontrary, I find that "Christian" is the generic term, including Mormon along with Wesleyan and Lutheran and Cal-vinist and a bost of other sects named for their founders. I believe that plu-ral marriage could never have grown up in a community of a composite re-ligious faith, and that wintever brings "Mormons," or, as they call themselves, "Latter-day Saints," out of their exclusive association with one another, out of their social and spiritual isolation, into a life which compels comnation, into a life which compels com-parison of opinion, of creed, and of the results of practice—whatever will do this, is to my mind of service to the body politic. Plurat marriage will be stamped out only by proving to those who believe in it that it is a false doc-trine; it will be eradicated only by bringing those who practice it in con-tact with the nobler ideals concerning demostic life which so far as I know. tact with the nobler ideals concerning domestic life which, so far as I know, are entertained as ideals and as doc-trines by all other divisions of the Christian church, whatever sad digres-sions in practice we may witness among them.

An Open Letter.

From the Chapin, S. C., News: Early in the spring my wife and I were taken with diarrhoea and so severe were the pains that we called a physician who prescribed for us, but his medicines failed to give any relief. A friend who had a bottle of Chamberlain's Colle, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy on hand gave each of us a dose and we at once felt the effects. I procured a bottie and before using the entire contents we were entirely cured. It is a wonderful remedy and should be found in every household. H. C. Bailey, Editor. This remedy is for sale by all

FRIDAY'S SPECIALS that will be snapped up quickly DRESS GOODS

ESTABLISHED 1864

ONE PRICE TO ALL NEVER UNDERSOLD

FOR FRIDAY ONLY

DEPARTMENT

ENGLISH MOHAIR BRILLIANTINES

38 inches wide, rich luster finish; comes in navy, grays and black; value 75c, FOR ONLY, A YABD—

37% CENTS

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Trank, boy to Guy and Dalay Trank, 563 West South Temple, May 23 Spear, girl to William and Mary-Spean 515 Fifth street, May 22. BIRTH RETURNS.

Hissed by Students.

MADISON, Wis, May 28.—At a special convocation today President Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin announced that there would be examinations during jubiles week. The announcement was hissed by the students. Placards have been posted on the campus by the students strongly denouncing President Van Hise's action.

Stomach at with your food?

look into The Food

If the food is right, the stomach will soon be right. That's certain, and Feed Right, Feel Right, Think Right, All follows as a matter of course, Doubts about it? Well, we wargue it. Make a 10 days' trial of

Grape-Nuts

The pre-digested food that is ALL notriment, and you will probably learn enough in that short time to put you on the road to health. Cut out the im-proper foods and use GRAPE-NUTS two or three meals a day and see th improvement in health that quickly follows.

Fact! Easy Proved.

Grape-Nuts

There's a Reason.

Get the little book. "The Road" to Wellville," in each pkg.

OFFICE OF THE CONSTRUCTING OFFICE OF THE CONSTRUCTING Quartermaster, 512 Dooly building, Salt Lake City, Utab, May 21, 1991. Staked proposals in triplicate will be received here until it a magnitude will be received here until it a magnitude will be received here until it a magnitude of the second time, June 11, 1994, and then opened, for wall lockers for two double infantry barracks, now under construction at Fort Douglas, Utab. The bidders will state in their bids the time in which they will complete their work. Full information and blank forms of proposals furnished on application to this office. Plans and specifications may be seen here. United States reserves the right to accept or reject any or all proposals, or any part thereof. Envelopes containing proposals to be indorsed "Proposals for Wall Lockers," and addressed to Captain San'l V. Ham Quartermaster. Ham, Quartermaster,

-6840

Design by May Manton.

Procks made in pinafore style and worn over guimpes with full sleeves are Recedingly charming and attractive and so eminently simple that they suit the small folk to perfection. This one is made of sheer nainsook with trimming of embroidery, but all the white materials used for purposes of the sort and pretty colored ginghams, chambrays and the like are equally suitable and the latter are tha preferable for the hours of play. To make the dress for a child of 4 years of age will be required two and one-half yards twenty-seven or two yards thirtythe factors wide with five and one-fourth yards of embroidery. A May Manton attern No. 4445, sizes 2 to 6 years, will be mailed to any address by the fashion department of this paper on receipt of 10 cents.

(Ten Cents Inclosed.) As orders are filled from the East, it will require about ten days from receipt of order to receive patterns.

Send to +

***+*+++++++